The B oston College F act B ook is a summary of significant statistics gathered from various sources throughout the University. Once again, we wish to extend sincere thanks and appreciation for the excellent cooperation and assistance received from these many sources.

The purpose of the F act Book is to produce a single-source publication and reference document that touches upon and integrates all aspects of the institution's people and its operations. The majority of the information is extracted from management reports produced on a regular basis by the various source offices. When reviewing the figures presented we advise you always to note the time frame referenced in the individual tables, and to contact responsible offices (noted at the bottom of each table) should you have further questions.

With this 28th edition, we continue our efforts to produce a F act B ook that provides both current information and an historical perspective. We welcome your comments and suggestions for additional information that might be included or improvements in the way information is presented.

F ounded by the Society of J esus in 1863, Boston College is dedicated to intellectual excellence and to its J esuit, Catholic mission and heritage. Committed to maintaining a welcoming environment for all people, theU niversity recognizes the important contribution a diverse community of students, faculty and administrators makes to the advancement of its goals and ideals.

Boston College rejects and condemns all forms of harassment, and it has developed procedures to redress incidents of harassment againstany members of its community, whatever the basis or circumstance. M oreover, in accordance with all applicable state and federal laws, B oston College does not discriminate in employment, housing, or education on the basis of a person's race, religion, color, national origin, age, sex, marital or parental status, veteran status, or disabilities. In addition, in a manner faithful to theJ esuit, Catholic principles and values thatsustain its mission and heritage, Boston College is in compliance with applicable statelaws providing equal opportunity withoutregard to sexual orientation.

Boston College has designated the Director of Affirmative Action to coordinate its efforts to comply with and carry out its responsibilities to preventdiscrimination in accordancewith state and federal laws. Any applicantfor admission or employment, as well as all students, faculty members, and employees, are welcome to raise any questions regarding violation of this policy with Barbara M arshall, Director of Affirmative Action, M ore H all 315, 552-2947. In addition, any person who believes that an act of discrimination based on Title IX discrimination has occurred at Boston College may raise this issue with theAssistantSecretary for Civil Rights of theU nited States Department of E ducation.

Boston College was founded by the Society of Jesus in 1863, and is one of twenty-eight J esuit colleges and universities in the United States. With three teachers and twenty-two students, the school opened its doors on September 5, 1864. At the outset and for more than seven decades of its first century, the college remained an exclusively liberal arts institution with emphasis on the Greek and Latin classics, English and modern languages and with more attention to philosophy than to the physical or social sciences. Religion of course had its place in the classroom as well as in the nonacademic life of the college.
Originally located on Harrison Avenue in the South End of Boston, where it shared quarters with the Boston College High School, the College outgrew its urban setting toward the end of its first fifty years. A new location was selected in Chestnut Hill, then almost rural, and four parcels of land were acquired in 1907. A design competition for the development of the campus was won by the firm of $M$ aginnis and Walsh, and ground was broken on June 19, 1909, for the construction of Gasson Hall. It is located on the site of the Lawrence farmhouse, in the center of the original tract of land purchased by Father Gasson, and is built largely of stone taken from the surrounding property.
Later purchases doubled the size of the property, with the addition of the upper campus in 1941, and the lower campus with the purchase of the Lawrence Basin and adjoining land in 1949. In 1974 Boston College acquired Newton College of the Sacred Heart, a mile-and-a-half from the main campus. With fifteen buildings standing on forty acres, it is now the site of the Boston College Law School and dormitories housing over 800 students, primarily freshmen.
Though incorporated as a University since its beginning, it was not until its second half-century that Boston College began to fill out the dimensions of its University charter. The Summer Session was inaugurated in 1924; the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in 1925; the Law School, 1929; the Evening College, 1929; the Graduate School of Social Work, 1936; the College of Business Administration, 1938. The latter, along with its Graduate School established in 1957, is now known as The Wallace E. Carroll School of $M$ anagement. The Schools of Nursing and Education were founded in 1947 and 1952, respectively. Weston Observadegree and fifteen master's degrees on women through the Extension Division, the precursor of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, the Evening College, and the Summer Session. By 1970 all undergraduate programs had become coeducational. Today women students comprise more than half of the University's enrollment.
In 1996 the Evening College became the College of Advancing Studies, offering a master's degree as well as the bachelor's degree. The university's longest presidency, 24 years, came to an end when Father J. Donald M onan became chancellor and was succeeded in the presidency by Father William P. Leahy.
In 1997, Father Leahy announced the implementation plan for Advancing the Legacy, BC's $$ 260$ million five year investment to strengthen education, reaffirm its Jesuit and Catholic mission, increase research and improve the quality of student life.

| With nearly 130 members, the J esuit Community at B oston |  |
| College is among the largest in the world and is certainly the largest in any college or university. Fifty-three J esuits work fulltime at Boston College, 30 on different faculties and 23 in administrative positions. One third of the community consists of Jesuits nominally retired from academic work at Boston College, |  |
| but many of these still teach and work in administrative posts on a part-time basis. A number of Jesuits in the community also |  |
| offer Ignatian retreats and spiritual direction to faculty, staff, and |  |
| 10 different countries who a the University and several vis tions. The main community there are also communities | e studying for graduate degrees at siting scholars from other instituresidence is St. M ary's Hall, but t Roberts House and M anresa |
| House (both on Beacon Street) and at B arat House (on the |  |
| N ewton Campus). The Jesuits who staff St. Ignatius Parish are also a part of the B oston College J esuit Community. |  |

${ }^{1}$ This statistic includes estimated regular university scholarships and grants (through the operating budget), faculty kin tuition remission, athletic grants, Jesuit Reduction, Alumni Association Scholarships, and endowed monies for scholarships.
${ }^{2}$ State scholarship funds to students from M assachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, M aine, New Hampshire; Gilbert Grants; and Herter Scholarships.
${ }^{3}$ Pell Grant eligibility is determined directly by the federal government.
${ }^{4}$ These loan funds (formerly called "N ational Direct Student Loans") are obtained by federal government contributions, B oston College contributions, and collections of previous loans awarded.
${ }^{5}$ This is a duplicated total since some students receive more than one type of aid.
*Important Note: The above data do not include B oston College student assistance for graduate and professional students (approximately $$ 14.92$ million in tuition remission, grants, or scholarships and $$ 11.17$ million in stipends during 1998-99) administered by the various schools and departments. Also, excluded are the Nursing Loan Program ($285,550 during 1998-99), a variety of grants and scholarships from fraternal organizations and clubs ($4,175,958 during 1998-99), and loans processed by the Financial Aid Office ($81,907,000 during 1998-99) for undergraduate students, graduate students, or their parents.

Ahe Libraries are replacing the existing Quest Library Information System with a state of the art web-based system that will provide expanded access to the Libraries' collections, databases and services. As with Quest, the new system will provide a variety of methods for searching the B oston College Online Catalog, which includes approximately 5.2 million books, periodicals, media materials, microforms, newspapers and links to electronic materials. Unlike Quest, the new system will be available 24 hours a day, and will include an expanded array of patron services that allow students, faculty, and staff to locate, request, and renew library materials and to request other library services online. The new system will also provide integrated access to the Libraries' increasing array of electronic resources including over 100 web accessible databases, full text journals and digital collections, such as the Liturgy and Life Collection of the John J. Burns Library. The migration to the new system will be completed in June 2000.

-     *

The Boston Cóllege Libraries offer over 500 databases online via the web and in CD-ROM format. A growing number of these databases and journals provide full text access directly to the researcher's desktop. A complete listing of all online databases available through the Libraries can be found by selecting Online Databases from the Resources menu on the Libraries home page <http:// www.bc.edu/ libraries.html>. The databases list includes both groupings by subject and an alphabetical listing by title with special designations for full text databases. M any of the databases can be launched directly by clicking on the web links. All other listings provide information explaining exactly where to access the databases. These can usually be accessed in the Electronic Information Center in the O'N eill Library or the Law Library. Databases range in coverage from very general to very specific and cover a wide rang of research areas in the humanities, social sciences, sciences, health sciences, business, law and public affairs. An expanding number of links to electronic journals may also be found under the Resources menu by selecting the Electronic Journals link.
The Libraries also support an expanding digital collection of special and rare materials such as the Thomas P. O'N eill, Jr. Photographs, the Liturgy and Life Artifacts collection and the Boston Gas Company Photographs via the John J. Burns Library Rare Books and Special Collections web page:
«ttp:// www/ bc/ edu/ bc_org/ avp/ ulib/ burns/ index.html>
Librarians offer training classes in how to search databases effectively, by arrangement with professors, and also provide individual coaching at various library service points or by appointment.
Researchers who cannot locate resources needed may contact a librarian to develop a search strategy to locate relevant information.
Finally, the Libraries facilitate access to many computerized numeric databases in business, economics, and the social sciences. Contact the O'N eill Reference Desk (refer@bc.edu) or one of the Special Libraries for more information about these services, or to arrange demonstrations, workshops, and classroom presentations.

The Interlibrary Loan Service is offered to students, faculty, administrators, and staff to obtain materials not available in the Boston College Libraries. Books, photocopies of journal articles, microfilm, theses, and government documents may be borrowed from other libraries. Except for unusual items, the waiting period is from one to four weeks. For anyone willing to use the material at the holding library, a computerized system at the reference desk will provide locations. Requests can be made by using electronic forms available on the Libraries' web site or by visiting a library.

The Boston College Libraries are part of the Boston Library Consortium, a group of area libraries which includes Brandeis University, Boston University, Brown University, M assachusetts Institute of Technology, N ortheastern University, Tufts University, University of M assachusetts System, Wellesley College, as well as the M assachusetts State Library, the B oston Public Library and the M arine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole. Faculty may apply for a Consortium borrower's card at the Reference Department in the O'N eill Library in order to borrow directly from the member libraries.

Bostón College is one of 1,370 Federal Depository Libraries located across the United States. As a Depository, the O'Neill Library receives thousands of government documents in print, microfiche and electronic formats and makes them available to the general public. M any government publications are now available via the Web or in CD-ROM format. Further information may be found on the web page: 孔http:// www.bc.edu/ bc_org/ avp/ ulib/ ref/ govdocs/ Govdocs.html>. Questions about the O'Neill collection and the availability of government documents should be directed to the Government Documents and Microforms staff on the first floor of O'Neill Library.

The Charles S. and Isabella V. M cM ullen M useum of Art aims to increase understanding of the visual arts, to encourage inquiry, and to enrich learning through the display of a notable permanent collection and special exhibitions of international importance. The M useum occupies two floors of Devlin Hall. Spacious galleries with movable walls provide flexible exhibition spaces that rival venues in larger museums.

Begun in the nineteenth century, the University's permanent collection contains masterpieces that span the history of art from Europe, Asia, and the Americas. Outstanding among them are Gothic and Baroque tapestries, Italian paintings of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, American landscape paintings of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, and $J$ Jpanese prints. The collection is displayed on a rotating basis in the M useum's galleries on the ground floor. In keeping with the teaching mission of a university museum, accompanying text explains the significance of each work in its historical context and addresses questions from the current scholarship. The M useum maintains an active special exhibition program, bringing outstanding works from around the world to Chestnut Hill. The M useum also contains a M icro Gallery, an innovative computer system which visitors to the M useum may use to display information and images of works in the permanent collection, as well as photographs of related works. The M useum organizes public lectures, symposia, workshops, film series, and gallery tours in concert with current exhibitions.

Information Technology manages B oston College's computing, communications, and electronic information resources. It provides leadership in shaping technology plans and strategies to supportthe mission and goals of the University. B oston College's campus technology environmentis ahighly integrated voice, data, and cable television network with high speed connections to all classrooms, offices, and residence hall rooms. The University's network infrastructure was enhanced in 1999 to double the speed of its connection to the Internet, improve its capacity to intelligently and selectively pass or deny access to network resources, and provide better support for off campus users accessing the network through internet service providers or the University's modem pool. We are in the process of implementing wireless networking across the campus. InformationTechnology has a staff of approximately 140 employees organized to deal effectively with the challenges of new technologies and customer needs. The

* The ten current sites are: M ain Campus, Newton Campus, St. Clement's Hall, Weston Observatory, New York offices, 1380 Soldiers Field Road, and the four Social Work satellite campuses (Springfield, M A; Paxton, M A; Plymouth, M A; and Portland, M E).

Irish Institute

The Irish Institute, established in 1992, utilizes cross-campus resources to create and provide programs in areas such as business, government and education. We believe that this mission-and the personal, educational, and corporate exchanges it facilitates-serves to promote a more lasting peace on the island of Ireland and can provide models for the delivery of good government that can be applied to many regions around the world.

The Irish Institute currently offers programs in education, business management, and political leadership. Featured in 1999-00 are programs in Civic Journalism, Corporate Child Care, Heritage M anagement, Young Political Leadership, the Ulster University Leadership Program, the Irish $M$ anagement Institute Leadership Program, The M iddle East Higher Education Program, the Ron Brown Business Development Program and the Council of the Isles Program.

In 1997 the Institute was chosen to administer the American component of the Northern Ireland Assembly Transition Program. Boston College continues to host Assembly members, their staff and civil servants, as well as representatives of all the parties from Britain and Ireland, for programs that will allow them to learn about the American political system at city, state and federal level and to forge relationships with their counterparts in the United States.

In recent years, the Institute has applied its programming models to embrace participants from the M iddle E ast and North Africa and in 1999 the Institute opened Boston College-Ireland, a Dublin base for its programming in the European Union.

Jesuit Institute

The Jesuit Institute was established in 1988 to contribute towards the response to the question of identity. The Institute, initially funded by the Jesuit Community at Boston College, is not an additional or separate academic program. It is rather a research institute which works in cooperation with existing schools, programs and faculties, primarily but not exclusively, at Boston College. Within an atmosphere of complete academic freedom essential to a university, the Institute engages positively in the intellectual exchange that constitutes the University. Its overarching purpose is to foster research and collaborate interchange upon those issues that emerge at the intersection of faith and culture. Through its programs, the Institute does this in two ways: by supporting the exploration of those religious and ethical additio3ys: cation, businement Program andcoDheOhicaportingthnessJ esuiL ofrgmosCe -1.07 Tc0.1216 Tw(the
